Sunday, 04 April 2010

Surely, the Motorola BACKFLIP is one of the most beautifully designed Motorola smartphones in the market. And it seems that the respective smartphone will soon hit the European market.

According to the sources, the Motorola BACKFLIP will be retailed on Amazon.de for 439 euro, while Mobilcom will be selling it for 499 euro. Do take note that the Motorola BACKFLIP is running on Android 1.5, and there's no indication that the operating system will be upgraded anytime soon.
