GoDaddy Inc. was established in 1997 by Bob Parsons in Scottsdale, Arizona, USA. What started as a modest domain name provider has now risen to the position of world's biggest ICANN-accredited registrar. According to their website, GoDaddy manages a whopping 26 million domain names today. GoDaddy offers everything you need to setup a site. They are the world largest domain registrar and SSL certificates seller. Their hosting solutions cover shared web hosting, vps hosting, reseller hosting, and dedicated server. You could also find email service, web design, Internet marketing service.

Go Daddy is widely recognized for its success, having been ranked #8 on the 2004 Inc. 500 list of the nation's fastest-growing privately held companies; #20 on the 2005 Deloitte Technology Fast 500 (growing 8,274 percent!); and having won the CNET Editor's Choice award in 2001, the Name Intelligence Largest Net Gain Award in 2002, 2003 and 2005; the Name Intelligence Users' Choice Award in 2005 as well as the #1 Best Overall Registrar in 2003. Go Daddy also won the Arizona Corporate Excellence Award for fastest growing privately-held company in 2003 and Most Innovative Large Company in 2004.

GoDaddy have good support and reasonable pricing however you may want to shop around first as GoDaddy's control panel isn't the easiest to use. Either way they must be doing something right being one of the biggest hosting companies in the US. With a wide selection of packages, GoDaddy have a web hosting plan to suit everyone. For those with extra large sites, there's a plan with unlimited allowances, however, it does come with quite a high price tag. Managing your account couldn't be easier with GoDaddy's own unique control panel. While it may not be just as user friendly as the industry favorite, Cpanel, first time users will get to grips with it in no time.

Why We Recommend GoDaddy? With a customer base running into hundreds of thousands, only a company of GoDaddy's stature could offer such a reliable service. Many years experience in the web hosting business ensures the necessary expertise is in place to guarantee high-performance and stable servers, with practically zero downtime.

GoDaddy offers both Linux web hosting and Windows web hosting - This is a major bonus, hosting with GoDaddy. The base plan is about $1.99 a month and comes with all the necessary features that are comparable to other top web hosts. To get the best plan from GoDaddy, you are going to need the GoDaddy Unlimited web hosting plan which cost you about $9.00 a month. While the GoDaddy price might scare some people off, a lot of people don't mind spending the extra few dollars to get the GoDaddy name attached to it. Along with shared web hosting, GoDaddy offers WordPress hosting, Cloud hosting, Grid hosting, and Blog hosting.
