

Text Link Ads: I Got A Link Sale!

Tuesday, 17 April 2007

I got a sale on Text Link Ads or TLA! Yes! After months in participating as a publisher in the money making program, I finally got a link sale through them. Although it might not be a fantastic pay – I got an offer of $4.96 for Money is too easy - LuvBin.Com

You can see the screenshot of my TLA account below:

{mosgoogle left}It’s much better compared to ReverseLinks.com as I got offers for permanent links only – TLA is monthly basis and is automatic where links would be placed by their script.

The advertiser – LuvBin.com looks like a Google page. Why does it appear? I have no idea. Probably the advertiser wants people to search using their Google search function and they will earn some money from AdSense – very high possibility.

If you want to try searching for something on LuvBin, go ahead and pay their site a visit. I’m pretty happy with the link sale as well.

Good luck in getting your TLA sales!

Cheers!
