

Earn Money by Writing

Monday, 25 December 2006

By referring to my earlier post "Online Opportunities", writing articles online and publishing them on certain website does pay! I have been researching the Internet for online money making opportunities and so far I have discovered that writing articles do pay!

{mosgoogle left}

Over the weekend, I have been participating on myLot actively. You will earn a few cents for each comment you put into a discussion that you have participated. Though the pay was not great, I get an average of $1 per day lately. Well if you have the free time and are interested in sharing opinions online (eg. in forums) you might want to try myLot for a change – at least you get paid. As you can see from the picture that I have attached, earlier on during late November this year, myLot commission was very little. Starting from December 4th, Mylot commission structure was updated. Ever since they have changed the commission structure, I was able to make $1 a day lately. Well at least this can help me pay my host services on WebsitePalace for at least 2 months! ($3.99 per month only)

If you are interested in participating in the myLot community, click here. Or copy and paste the following link - <http://www.mylot.com/?ref=michaelvanx> (please refer me!)

Click here to see my December earnings.

So what are you waiting for? Get registered in myLot now! Remember to add me as your friend.