

Blogkits is a Big Scam: I m Furious Because They Never Paid Me

Tuesday, 04 March 2008

I've had it with this company. Initially when they just started out &ndash; I sang praises to them as they are pretty different to any money making schemes out there. All you need to do is to send clicks to the advertiser's website and you can generate a good amount of money via this method.

Also, if you refer sales for advertisers, you get a handsome amount of cash from them! Best of all, the cash-out requirements is pretty low - $25 and they pay by PayPal also.

On January, I receive an automated email from their system stating that my affiliate payment has been sent by mail. I anxiously waited for the mail to arrive &ndash; BUT IT NEVER CAME.

I emailed my affiliate manager, Ryno Saayman, requesting him to do a little check for me to determine whether the payment was really sent and furthermore according to the system, I chose my payment method via PayPal and not snail mail. I emailed him twice &ndash; once on 25th January 2008 and 21st February 2008 and I did not receive a single reply from him.

I've cut and paste my email below for your reference:

Email 1 (21 Jan 2008): Stating that my affiliate payment was 'mailed' today

Dear W,

You have requested that we notify you when the payment for your OfferForge account has been sent.

Your affiliate id is: US4829

Your check was mailed to you today -- 01/21/2008

Kind Regards,

Email 2 (25th January 2008): I was enquiring about why my payment was sent through a check while my preferred payment method was PayPal

Hi there, I've checked my account and noticed that my payment has been sent to me - via check. My preferred payment methods that I have input into the system is through PayPal - myemail@yahoo.com. I've checked the date and the check was sent a month ago - I'm really confused whether which payment method was used to send my payment as I haven't receive my payment yet. My preference is PayPal.

As for the W8/W9 form and SSN or TAXID, not sure whether this is required or not as I'm from oversea (Malaysia). If it is - can you forward me the link to get the form?

Thanks for your excellent service! Cheers!

Email 3 (21 Feb 2008): Since my last email went unanswered, I took sometime writing a new email to them &ndash; and still NO reply!

Hi there, it's been a month now that I have received this email. I have not received the check - could you kindly run a check for me whether it was really issued?

Also, I received a second email stating that I need to return the W8 form but my address clearly states that I'm from Malaysia.

And finally, by right I have set my payment method to PayPal but got this email instead stating that my check was mailed. I would definitely prefer payment via PayPal as it is faster and more efficient.

Thanks, cheers and have a great day!

I don't know whether anyone out there has made any money off this affiliate cum pay per click system as notable online money makers out there don't even list this money making method in their list!

I've got $109.30 affiliate payment which was conveniently lost by this affiliate company.

Trust me &ndash; ditch this company, they are a big scammer!
