

Text Link Ads - make money by selling links

Saturday, 20 January 2007

I came to know about this link advertising service while on my blog browsing run just a moment ago. The concept is simply fantastic. A quick registration at the main site revealed that I could earn in between $50 to $125 a month if I managed to sell all the sponsored links spots on my site. Of course, 50% goes to Text Link Ads (I've already deducted the figure mentioned earlier). That's good money!

Another interesting fact, this site is in fact the brainchild of Darren Rowse – the problogger. No wonder he's getting such a big income online. Moreover, a quick installation of an additional module to my Joomla! site is quite seamless. It was easy and quick, I just had to follow all the instructions provided. They have such well designed software that once I've successfully installed the module, an email was sent instantly to me. How about that? Makes me wonder how do they know I've installed it?

Also, there's feedvertising – Selling feed URL for your advertisers. I guess all you need to do is to place a feed URL button in your website for the advertiser.

Of course, not forgetting they do have a referral system. Referral systems are simply just the best marketing tools. Money is what attracts a publisher to participate in the program. It's quite lucrative by the way. You will earn a flat rate of $25 each time your referee turns into a paid client or publisher.

And finally, there is no minimum payout rate for PayPal! Whoopee! For check it's capped at $25.

So what ever it is, start monetizing your site with Text Link Ads. I'm sure it's worth it. Be sure to check your page rank. I have a hint it plays a big role for selling your links. A site with a page rank of 5 and above is much sought after, especially for new sites because adding a link to that site will get it indexed. A link from a site with a page rank 5 will get the new site indexed in a month, while 6 in 24 hours!

Luckily I changed the template to support more links. Now I can make additional income. Wish me luck and good luck to you as well. Please refer me in Text Link Ads by clicking here. Thank you.
